

Hello everyone

Welcome to online worship from the East church

Normally in church this would be the start of our summer services.

So today online we start our Summer services.

It may be raining outside but for the next couple of months we are going to hear from a number of people about their ideal holiday either real or imaginary.

Also over the next couple of weeks you will hear more details of our online holiday club. For the last few years our holiday clubs have featured the adventures of the Watt family. John Hardwick, the author of the Watt family has agreed to allow us to use his Watt family scrips online this year.

So Grandma, Wendy and Prof Roly Rolo will be with you over the five days of the holiday club which starts on?? One difference this year is that it will contain activities for all ages. Sarah will tell us more about that next week.

Today though we have invited the Watt family along to introduce themselves and our Razzamatazz Robot online holiday club to you.

It's theme is about discovery more of god's creation and this week I read a small article about how in 1937 people were very disturbed by a recent fashion change. There had been a huge increase that year in people not wearing hats. Not good it seems, all those bald heads. On investigation it people began to understand that the trend was really about people feeling more comfortable with their lives. Happy as they went on their way.

We say it often, but that is what God wants for us too. To understand the hope he offers through his son Jesus and the holy spirit who prompts us to live that hope out in our lives each day.

As John puts it in his gospel because Jesus lives, we live also.

Let us worship God together.
